

Polsinelli Deepens Antitrust Bench with Addition of Shareholder Bevin Newman in D.C.

(Nov. 7, 2025) Polsinelli is pleased to announce that Bevin M.B. Newman has joined the firm as a shareholder in the Antitrust Practice. Based in Polsinelli's Washington, D.C., office, Newman brings more than 25 years of experience advising clients through complex merger reviews, government investigations and strategic collaborations.

"Bevin is widely respected in the health care and life sciences sectors, and her reputation for guiding clients through complex regulatory matters makes her a tremendous addition to our team," said Chase Simmons, Chairman and CEO of Polsinelli. "Her arrival reflects the kind of thoughtful growth that strengthens our ability to serve clients in high-stakes, competitive markets."

Newman represents globally renowned health systems, academic medical centers, providers, payers, and pharmaceutical and technology companies in high-profile transactions and investigations. She regularly represents companies before the Federal Trade Commission, Department of Justice and state attorneys general in merger clearance and civil conduct matters.

"With her deep antitrust experience, particularly in health care and life sciences, Bevin adds exceptional strength to our national practice," said Jane E. Arnold, Co-Chair of Polsinelli's Business Department. "Her insight into both transactional and enforcement trends will be invaluable to our clients navigating complex regulatory environments."

"Polsinelli's nationwide platform and deep experience across health care and life sciences make it an ideal home for my practice," said Newman. "The firm's breadth of capabilities allows me to collaborate seamlessly across disciplines to deliver practical, business-focused solutions to clients facing complex antitrust and regulatory challenges."

Newman also frequently speaks and writes on competition issues, particularly as they impact the health care sector. She earned her J.D. from Columbia University and her S.B. from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Polsinelli's nationally recognized Antitrust team partners with clients to provide industry-specific advice and practical solutions to complex issues that our clients encounter on a daily basis. The team has depth and experience representing clients in a broad range of federal and state antitrust matters including, but not limited to, compliance and risk management, civil and criminal antitrust investigations, group purchasing organizations, joint ventures, mergers and acquisitions, price discrimination, resale price maintenance and standard setting.
