Albert Diaz-Silveira, a seasoned corporate lawyer with more than two decades of experience, applies a pragmatic, value-driven approach to assisting clients in achieving their business objectives. His practice spans diverse areas, including cross-border business transactions, mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures and strategic partnerships.

Albert has a wealth of experience negotiating, documenting and providing counsel on mergers and acquisitions, joint venture agreements, financings and a broad range of corporate agreements. Albert's representation extends to clients across various industries, including financial services, manufacturing, energy, aviation, distribution, and healthcare, both domestically and internationally.

In the earlier stages of his career, Albert served as counsel at an international law firm, adeptly representing corporations, investors, entrepreneurs, financial institutions and advisors on a broad spectrum of corporate transactions. Prior to joining Polsinelli, Albert founded and managed his own corporate and transactional boutique law firm for over 10 years, further amplifying his entrepreneurial spirit and reinforcing his commitment to delivering exceptional legal services.
