Anna Dzamashvili is passionate about the health care industry and understands the numerous complexities and legal issues that can impact health care related businesses. She is dedicated to providing effective, efficient, and innovative legal health care solutions. Clients rely on Anna to analyze each health care matter and develop a strategic approach to representation based on the client's immediate and long-term goals.

Prior to practicing law, Anna interned for Equip for Equality, the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and was a Client Advocate for Loyola University Chicago School of Law's Health Justice Program, where she advocated at no cost on behalf of members of the community-focusing on the population that is legally underserved.

Additionally, Anna concentrated 7+ years representing complex guardianships and decedent's estate matters that originate in the healthcare field. Anna's experience has helped bridge the gap between healthcare and probate worlds.
