Jenn Behrens advises hedge funds, private credit funds and asset managers on distressed debt, claims trading and special-situations investments across U.S. and global secondary markets. Drawing on experience leading a global debt and claims trading practice, she brings a deeply developed secondary-market perspective to bespoke investments, distressed-asset strategy and transactions involving loans, trade claims and private securities. Her practice also spans complex financing and capital markets transactions, including secured debt and equity financings and private investments in public equity.

Jenn advises clients throughout the transaction lifecycle, coordinating with attorneys across related disciplines to address the legal and commercial issues presented by complex and highly structured investments. Jenn is a frequent voice on distressed debt and secondary-market issues, pairing active involvement in the Loan Syndications and Trading Association and Loan Market Association with published thought leadership in the New York Law Journal, Bloomberg Law and Turnarounds & Workouts.
