jfranzese@polsinelli.com

Jessica Franzese is a coding and compliance consultant who supports health care providers, health systems, and counsel when medical coding, claims documentation, reimbursement analysis or payor audit findings drive financial or regulatory exposure. She works with attorneys and clients on complex health care audits, investigations, transactions, and litigation involving medical coding, reimbursement and regulatory compliance issues.

With more than 30 years of experience, Jessica's background includes prior roles as a certified pharmacy technician, multi-specialty medical coder, coding quality auditor, professional fee auditor, and senior consultant at a national health care consulting firm. She holds CPC and CPMA credentials through the AAPC and has completed certifications in Healthcare Law and Leading Remote Teams through Cornell University.

Additionally, Jessica provides data-driven support through advanced Microsoft Excel capabilities, including large dataset analysis, pivot tables, and data visualization. She uses these tools to support and inform legal and compliance strategies.
