Joshua Dill's practice focuses on representing investment banks, national and international banks, alternative lenders and private equity funds in the origination of commercial mortgage and mezzanine loans on properties across the nation.

His practice has a strong emphasis in representing mortgage lenders, subordinate lenders and borrowers in a wide array of transactions across asset classes, including shopping centers, hotels, office buildings, industrial properties and residential properties.

He regularly advises clients on the origination, purchase and sale of mortgage loans, mezzanine loans and preferred equity investments. Joshua has extensive experience representing both mortgage and subordinate lenders in loans intended for the CMBS and syndication markets as well as construction and bridge loans. He also has significant experience advising clients on workouts and the restructuring of complex debt structures.
