Suni serves as Chair of Polsinelli's nationally distinguished Post-Grant Practice Group, delivering astute Intellectual Property (IP) counsel to global innovators aiming to optimize and safeguard their IP holdings. With a comprehensive grasp of IP law, Suni has a proven track record in post-grant proceedings, inter partes review (IPR) proceedings and crafting fortified IP portfolios pivotal for driving business outcomes. Recognized for his acumen in post-grant strategies and IP development, Suni also stands as a crucial advisor for startups and savvy investors. Both corporate entities and professional individuals seek his profound industry insights and extensive network to derive tailored solutions addressing their distinct IP and commercial needs.

Post-Grant Proceedings Experience:

Since the mid-2000s, Suni's extensive experience in Post-Grant proceedings has been instrumental. Alongside his team, he pioneered the strategic employment of reexaminations to attain leverage in patent litigation. With their proficiency in presenting and countering invalidity challenges at the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Suni's team has ascended as a preferred choice for IPR and post-grant review (PGR) proceedings, garnering Polsinelli national acclaim. Their strategic finesse and rigorous procedural comprehension have resulted in the favorable direction of hundreds of cases, ensuring clients' IP is staunchly protected and strategically deployed.

Intellectual Property Portfolio Development:

Deeply understanding the nuances of IP law, particularly its interplay with high-stakes litigation and post-grant dynamics, Suni adeptly leads clients in nurturing and fortifying their IP assets. His forward-thinking methods, coupled with deep technical and industry knowledge, assure that clients' IP portfolios are not just shielded but are also strategically aligned for business progression.

Engagement with the Entrepreneurial Community:

Suni's allegiance to the entrepreneurial ecosystem shines in his hands-on advisory role to startups and expansion-driven organizations. Drawing from his extensive industry acumen and network, he furnishes bespoke solutions, priming emergent businesses and their
