

Telehealth Enforcement & Compliance

The rapid growth of the telehealth industry has caught the country by storm. New telemedicine companies, physicians, and marketing groups are quickly paving new opportunities across the U.S. and the technology advances are pacing ahead. Between the swiftness of new product discoveries and the ever-changing health care fraud and compliance laws, those benefiting from the telehealth boom are vulnerable to government investigations.

Polsinelli's Telehealth Enforcement team is comprised of attorneys who have previously served in leading positions in the Department of Justice, including six former federal prosecutors, a former Criminal Chief of the United States Attorney's Office for the Southern District of Georgia and several former state prosecutors. Our attorneys are well-equipped to assist those facing federal criminal charges, federal government investigations and grand jury subpoenas.

Our experienced defense team has a proven track record of defending companies and individuals in the governing rules of health care and telemedicine such as:

- Anti-Kickback Statute
- Stark Law
- Health Insurance Portability and Accountability (HIPAA)
- Health Care Fraud
- State-Specific Telemedicine Laws

Recognized as a leader in health care law, Polsinelli's Health Care and Government Investigations practice rankings include:

- National Tier One ranking in Health Care Law by U.S. News & World Report 2022 "Best Law Firms" and as the 2018 "Law Firm of the Year" in Health Care for the second time in four years.
- Nationally ranked in Chambers USA in Health Care and regionally ranked in White Collar and Government Investigations.
- Nationally ranked in Criminal Defense – White Collar by U.S. News & World Report (2016-present).
