Zach Meyer helps clients navigate real estate projects from concept to construction and beyond. He advises on all stages of development, land use, investment and construction contracts, as well as purchases, sales and leasing. Zach works closely with clients and legal teams to track local, state and federal regulations, identify opportunities and build clear paths toward closing. He's drawn to the tangible, lasting impact real estate projects can have on communities. Clients and colleagues value his upbeat outlook, collaborative style and ability to forge strong relationships that help move deals forward.
